Vending Machine Application - Developed a vending machine application written in C# where users can accept user input, write transactions to a log, and keep track of inventory. Making use of OOP principles.

TEnmo - Created a money transfer application using C#, SQL, ASP.NET, and RESTful design similar to Venmo. This application manages users' accounts, transfers, and funds. Balances and transfers are managed in SQL, and server controllers and client managers manage the data between the two.

Hoppy Trails - Constructed a full stack application that allows registered users to view a full list of breweries in Cleveland and be able to review them. The second primary feature is to be able to see curated brewery "trails" based on what makes them so great. From gathering and constructing our own data to SQL, to creating our own review system from scratch, this app utilizes everything learned from Tech Elevator.
